S. OTHO WILSON'S

"Golden Belt" Tobacco Stick.

Patented January 4th, 1887.

ENDORSED BY LEADING FARMERS AND WAREHOUSEMEN.

It is a well established principle that tobacco cannot be cured uniformly unless it is uniform when put in the barn. This can never be done by cutting the whole plant at once. I have invented a stick with a WIRE ATTACHMENT, by which you can cure your lugs as they ripen, leaving the BODY OF THE PLANT and "tips" to remain on stalk, to be TAKEN OFF AND CURED OR CUT WHEN RIPE.

If you adopt this system of curing tobacco, you cannot afford to miss an investigation of my patent, as it is by all odds the CHEAPEST, BEST and SIMPLEST invention for this purpose now before the public. Its cost is from one-half to one-tenth that of other inventions. Write for circular and terms, with testimonials.

Barn, farm and territorial rights for sale.

S. OTHO WILSON,

Inventor and Patentee, Raleigh, N. C.

Testimonial from Mr. W. S. Parker, at Henderson, N. C.: "I used the Patent Stick of Mr. Wilson in one barn last season, and liked it very well and expect to use it again this season."
